Before Your San Servolo Trip

Make sure that you bring:

- [x] Your passport.

- [x] Your Princeton ID, another form of Identification (driver's license if you have one).

- [x] A major credit card.

- [x] A European Travel Plug Adapter USB C for electronics.

- [x] Be ready with proper shoes in case we experience a little flooding of the streets that is typical in Venice when it rains.

- [x] Don't forget to bring good cheer!

Packing Tips

Allowable baggage

1 checked bag up to 50 pounds, 1 personal item, and 1 carry-on.

It is recommended that you travel light. Venice has many stairs and bridges. Large luggage is difficult to travel with.

Pack layers

There is no dress code for the trip. However, it can be cool near the water and on the water taxi, so you should bring warm layers. A light jacket or sweater will suffice.

Beach day!

We will have the opportunity to visit a beach. You may want to bring swimwear if you plan on getting into the water.

Riding the Vaporetto

The vaporetto in Venice is the city's public water bus system, operated by ACTV, that provides transportation along the canals for locals and tourists, connecting Venice with its islands and serving as the primary mode of transit for residents. There are 19 scheduled lines with a daily service running from approximately 5 a.m. to 12 a.m., plus night routes from 11:30 p.m. to 5 a.m.. Passengers must purchase a validated ticket before boarding to use the service.

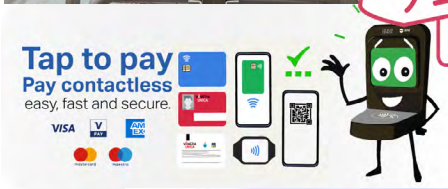

Popular Vaporetto Lines

- Line 1: This is a slower, local line that stops at nearly every stop along the Grand Canal.
- Line 2: An express line that makes fewer stops and is faster than Line 1.
- Line 12: Connects Venice to the islands of Murano, Burano, and Torcello.

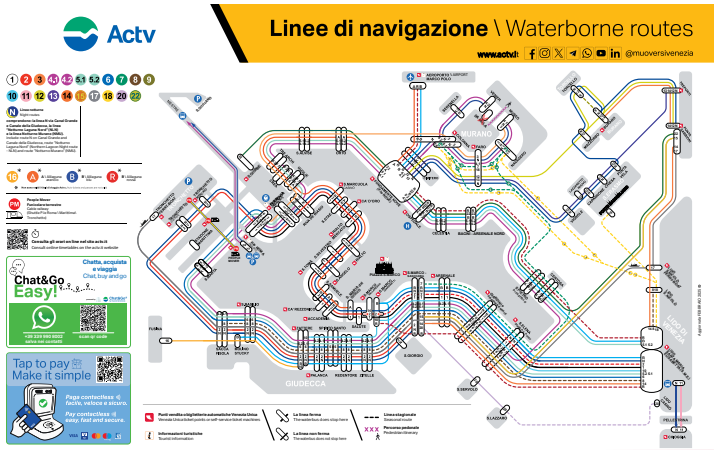

How to Use the Vaporetto

1. Buy a ticket:
   Purchase a ticket at Venezia Unica ticket desks, authorized retailers (like newsagents or tobacconists), or ticket machines at landing stages, or via the AVM Venezia official app.
2. Validate the ticket:
   Before you board, validate your ticket at the machines located at the landing stages.
3. Board the vaporetto:
   Find the correct stop for your desired line and board the water bus. Stops are easy to recognize by their yellow and white floating platforms.
4. Travel:
   The vaporetto takes you to various destinations and islands, such as San Servolo, Murano, Burano, and Lido.

Key Information

- Timings: The main system runs daily from approximately 5 a.m. to 12 a.m.
- Night Service: Dedicated night routes, Line N, provide service from 11:30 p.m. to 5 a.m.
- Operator: ACTV is the company that provides all public transport in Venice, including the water buses.
- Luggage: One piece of luggage, up to 150 cm in total dimensions, is included in the ticket price.

ACTV Vaporetto Tickets and Passes

Rolling Venice Card

For travelers between the ages of 6 and 29, purchasing a €6 Rolling Venice Card offers significant discounts on multi-day ACTV travel passes.

- € 27,00 instead of € 45,00 : ACTV "3 days Youth pass" to get unlimited use of public transport on all urban lines (bus and waterbus) – except bus lines to and from Marco Polo airport.
- € 34,00 instead of € 52,00 : ACTV "3 days Youth pass" + Transfer MARCO POLO Airport (ONE WAY)
- € 40,00 instead of € 58,00 : ACTV "3 days Youth pass" + Transfer MARCO POLO Airport (RETURN TICKET)

Vaporetto Pass Prices (2025)

- 24-hour pass: €25
- 48-hour pass: €35
- 72-hour pass: €45
- 7-day pass: €65

Due to the location of our accomodations, you will need to purchase a vaporetto pass either ahead of time or upon arrival in Venice.

Where to Buy Passes

- Venezia Unica official website or app: Venezia Unica website
- Venezia Unica ticket offices: Located at ticket desks throughout the city
- Authorized retailers: Such as tobacconists and newsagents
- Ticket machines: Found at major vaporetto stops

Single rides on the vaporetto cost €9.50 for a 75-minute ticket, but passes offer unlimited travel and are often more cost-effective for tourists exploring the city and its islands.
